Sena's Elegia Pouch Case Gets Into Apple Stores

The Apple iPhone Elegia Pouch line of cases from Sena Cases has been selected by Apple to go into their Apple Retail Stores across the US.

These elegant cases started appearing in the Apple stores late last month. Here's Sena's brief description of them:

The Apple iPhone Elegia Pouch is unlike any other pouch on the market. The Elegia Pouch's snug design provides expert protection especially useful when placed in a purse or briefcase.

I've used a Sena case before on a Dell Axim X51V and loved it. I've also recently been trying out a Sena Leatherskin case for the iPhone, which I'll review here very soon.

It's nice to see Sena getting a boost with entry into the Apple stores. Hopefully we'll see some of their other iPhone lines make it in there as well, like the Leatherskin and MagnetFlipper models.
