

More iPhone gift ideas

As RedEye's iPhone blogger, I've got plenty of ideas for holiday gift-giving. Prices and availability subject to change.

IPHONE, IBLOG

By Scott Kleinberg
SKLEINBERG@TRIBUNE.COM

XtremeMac InCharge auto charger

$19.95 AT APPLE STORES AND APPLE.COM

You never want your iPhone to be without juice, and with the InCharge from XtremeMac, your battery always is topped off. It uses a standard 12-volt accessory outlet.

Apple Bluetooth headset

$129 AT APPLE STORES AND APPLE.COM

Hold the phone—or don't. Now get clear, sharp audio wirelessly when talking on your iPhone. It features a single button that lets you make and receive calls and comes with a charging dock. There are other bluetooth headsets, but none as stylish and easy to use.

Sena iPhone cases >>

PRICES VARY AT APPLE.COM OR SENACASES.COM

Want an iPhone case in baby blue or croco tan? Sena has them, from pouches to cases you can put right in your iPhone dock. And each features slim design, Napa leather and velvet lining.

iTunes gift cards

$10 TO $500 AT APPLE.COM AND MOST MAJOR RETAILERS

Sometimes, the best present is what's on the iPhone itself. With an iTunes gift card, your special someone can buy music, TV shows and music and think of you every time they listen or watch. If you buy from —, choose from an instant certificate or a card mailed in an attractive folder.

>> CHECK OUT SCOTT'S IPHONE, THEREFORE I BLOG AT REDEYECHICAGO.COM/IPHONEBLOG