Red

I don't know how hard it is for a company to offer 17 colors of an iPod case but Sena Cases of Costa Mesa does, even offering 4 shades of red.

Just announced: two new cases, the Nano MagnetFlipper and the iPod Video Premium Stand. Both are hand-stitched cases available in leather.

The patented Nano MagnetFlipper is just that. It uses a flap with a built-in magnet to close the case. The flap also protects the nano's wheel. Sena has 17 styles and colors available for $34.99 to $39.99.

The video case (pictured at the top) has a reversible snap closure that doubles as a free-standing podium so you can prop up your iPod video on a table to view. Recommended for frequent fliers. Price is $39.99 to $49.99.
