Are you looking for a protective iPhone case but just aren't satisfied with the selection out there? You know you need something to protect your beautiful phone but you feel uncomfortable wrapping a rubber sleeve or a plastic case around it. You paid almost $600 on this phone. It needs to be wrapped by something as luxurious as the phone itself. After all, you wouldn't put a carbra on a Maserati would you?

It's a good thing there is the Elegá Pouch by Sena Cases. Out of all the products that I have reviewed thus far for the iPhone, the Elegá Pouch is by far the most luxurious. Extreme attention to detail, the smell of genuine calfskin leather, and the velvet lining are apparent the moment you take it out of its velvet bag.

Read this description in a Robin Leach accent: "The Elegá Pouch is unlike any other pouch on the market. The Elegá Pouch's snug design provides expert protection especially useful when placed in a purse or briefcase. With a ratchet belt clip, extra padding, velvet lining and a sleek design, the Elegá is exclusively tailored to provide a stylish shelter for the iPhone. The ultimate security for Apple's hottest new device."

The sample I received was a Crocodile Leather design in a Tan color but the Elegá Pouch comes in many different colors. I carried my iPhone in this case around the office and was met with many people saying, it looked a little feminine. So...I loaned it to a woman in my office who also has an iPhone. The reaction she got was similar to how you would hear people complimenting a woman on her purse or her shoes. I'm convinced that had I received the Orange colored case I would keep my iPhone in it all the time. The best part, by far, is the amazing feat of delivering such a high quality product for under \$50. This case looks and feels like a \$100 case. This a truly classy case for any executive.

The Elegá Pouch from Sena Cases retails between $39.99 - $49.99 and can be purchased here.

It's a good thing there is the Eluga Pouch by Sensi Cases. Out of all the products that I have reviewed thus far for the iPhone, the Eluga Pouch is by far the most luxurious. Extreme attention to detail, the smell of genuine calf/kin leather, and the velvet lining are apparent the moment you take it out of it's velvet bag.

Read this description in a Robb's Leach accent: "The Eluga Pouch is unlike any other pouch on the market.
